

Speech to Speech enables persons with permanent, or temporary speech problems to participate on an equal basis with other citizens. It is not just for a small number of people. Persons with strokes, or accidents, surgery, or disease may need this service from time to time. We must always remember that disability can come to any one, at any time.

Having been paralysed years ago, I could have used this service growing up. Fortunately, I do not need the service today. I certainly want it available in this country and other countries.
